b7C

The records of the Chicago Police Department reflect that on June 24, 1946, at about 6:00 p.m., JAMES M. RAGEN, Sr. was shot by unknown persons at the corner of 39th and State Streets in Chicago. RAGEN was returning to his home on Chicago's South Side from his downtown office. He was followed by a car containing his bodyguards but they were unable to prevent the shooting. RAGEN was hit by a shotgun blast in the neck and shoulder and was removed to the Michael Reese Hospital where he remained until August 14, 1946, on which day he died.

On December 4, 1946, THOMAS CONNELLY, former captain of the Chicago Police Department, advised that several witnesses in the ambush slaying of JAMES RAGEN, Sr., a former operator of the Continental News Service, a racing news organization in Chicago, had been located. CONNELLY stated that these witnesses, [redacted] [redacted] and [redacted] all had identified the photographs of [redacted] and LEONARD PATRICK as two of the gunman responsible for the killing of JAMES RAGEN, Sr.

CONNELLY further advised that [redacted] was a former member of the Purple Gang of Detroit, Michigan, and that he pals around with LEONARD PATRICK who was also a member of the Purple Gang of Detroit. [redacted] and PATRICK are also known to associate with DAVE YARAS, Chicago Police Department Number D-14360.

b7C

CONNELLY further stated that the Chicago Police Department, Scientific Laboratory, through ballistic tests had advised that the shotguns used in the killing of JAMES RAGEN, Sr. were also positively identified as having been used in the killing of JAMES (RED) FAUCETT, killed May 25, 1945; LOUIS DOREMAN, killed May 5, 1943; and DANNY STANTON, killed May 5, 1943. An article in the "Chicago American" newspaper dated August 18, 1947, revealed that JOHN WHITE, [redacted] and [redacted] had all signed affidavits that they had seen LEONARD PATRICK [redacted] and DAVE YARAS shoot RAGEN. Two weeks after the above indictments, [redacted] a former Assistant State's Attorney and more recently a member of the law firm of Bieber and Brodtkin, announced that he was the attorney for [redacted] and charged that two of the witnesses had changed their stories.

b7C

An article in the "Chicago Sun" dated August 22, 1947, reflects that [redacted] a newsboy, charged that [redacted] had sought to make him recant his testimony that he could identify the slayers of JAMES RAGEN, Sr., but [redacted] clung to his previous statements to the March Grand Jury that he saw [redacted] small-time gambler, fire from the back of a truck the shots which struck RAGEN on June 24, 1946. [redacted] identified a picture of [redacted] as the man who fired the shotgun and the picture of YARAS as the man kneeling with another weapon and a picture of LEONARD PATRICK as the driver of the truck. b6
b7C

b6
b7C

An article in the "Chicago American" newspaper dated October 18, 1947, reflects that WHITE was killed at 35th and Indiana Avenue, Chicago, soon after recanting his story that he saw RAGEN murdered by gunman later identified as [redacted] YARAS and PATRICK, all West Side hoodlums.

CG 92-374

In October, 1947, Captain CONNELLY and Lieutenant DRURY, suspended police officers, stated that it was alleged that the same persons, PATRICK, [redacted] and YARAS, were responsible for the shooting of "BUGSY SIEGEL", a West Coast racketeer with reported connections in the alleged Chicago crime syndicate, because of the modus operandi used in the shooting of SIEGEL. SIEGEL was in the California residence of VIRGINIA HILL, a girl friend of his.

b6

ca 1946, exact date unknown, by an unknown source, that DAVE YARAS and LEONARD PATRICK are reported to be the "torpedoes" or the killers for the syndicate.

It was reported to the Chicago Office in 1946, exact date unknown, by an unknown source, that PATRICK may have had a part in the killing of WILLIE TARSCH and "ZUKIE the Bookie" ZUCKERMAN, West Roosevelt Road gamblers who were killed in gangland style several years ago by unknown persons.

On April 5, 1957, two individuals, who refused to furnish their names, appeared at the Chicago Office at 8:50 a.m. and were interviewed by SAs RENE J. DUMAINE and [redacted], at which time they stated they were in the home-improvement business in Chicago. They advised that on the advice of their attorney, whose name they refused to divulge, they contacted the FBI.

b7C

They stated that approximately five or six weeks prior to this date they were approached by LENNY PATRICK and DAVE YARAS who told them that they would have to start making payoffs amounting to $1,000.00 per week. They stated that PATRICK and YARAS made no indication what the payoff was for but because they knew the reputation of PATRICK and YARAS, they were fearful of them.

CG 92-374

These two men stated that after some negotiation with PATRICK and YARAS, they agreed to make a payment of $1,250.00 per month commencing Saturday, April 6, 1957.

clw These two men refused to furnish their names, the name of their company, or the name of their attorney and stated that they were merely seeking advice from the FBI. They stated that they discussed this alleged payoff with other individuals in the home-improvement industry and have discovered that some others are actually making payoffs.

On June 24, 1957, T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, was contacted by SA THOMAS W. PARRISH and advised that the syndicate had controlled the [redacted] run by [redacted] and [redacted]. She stated that they had forced them into obtaining more and more [redacted]. She stated that LENNY PATRICK visited them on various occasions demanding that they expand their operation or they would get into serious trouble. T-1 stated her last contact with PATRICK was in 1953.

b7D

She stated that when she and [redacted] were arrested by the FBI, PATRICK threatened to [redacted] if she revealed any information regarding the [redacted]. She further advised that on one occasion PATRICK told her she would get the same treatment that he had given GROSS if she gave him any trouble. T-1 stated that GROSS was a Chicago politician who was killed in gangland manner approximately three years ago.

b6
b7C
b7D

T-1 advised that PATRICK is very friendly with (FNU) [redacted] who formerly ran a currency exchange on Rush Street and handled a considerable amount of racketeer money. She stated that when she and [redacted] were operating, they deposited all the checks through [redacted].

b6
b7C
b7D

CG 92-374

On September 10, 1948, LEONARD PATRICK was interviewed in connection with an investigation in the Chicago Office at which time he furnished the following information:

PATRICK stated that at that time he resided at 4248 West Congress Street, Chicago, and that he, with his brother JACK PATRICK, operate the Lawndale Restaurant at 3714 West Roosevelt Road. He and his brother have had a part interest in this restaurant for over two years and they recently bought out [redacted] who had previously had the remaining interest and until recently acted as the manager. b6 b7C

PATRICK admitted that at the present time there is a poker game operating in the restaurant. He stated that the above restaurant was his only business interest at that time. Previous to his affiliation with this restaurant, he was employed as a houseman at the Arcade Restaurant located at Kedzie and Roosevelt Road. This place, according to PATRICK, operated a large craps game but is presently not in operation.

PATRICK advised that the only political connection he has is through his father who is a precinct captain in the 24th Ward, Democratic organization. PATRICK stated that aside from the card games in his restaurant, which he considered of little account, there was little or no gambling in the West Roosevelt area.

Regarding recent gangland killings in the Chicago area, specifically those of NORTON POLSKY, 1865 South Springfield Avenue, "LITTLE SNEEZE" FRIEDMAN, Midwest Athletic Club, and HARRY "The Horse" KROTISH, 1500 block of South St. Louis Avenue, PATRICK stated that in his opinion all three of these individuals had been killed because, he heard, they were engaged in robberies of handbooks and gambling houses. He stated that none of their activities took place in the Roosevelt Road area. He stated he considered himself a close personal friend of all of the above individuals, however, he disclaimed any definite knowledge as to what their activities were prior to the time they were killed.

In March, 1949, JACK PATRICK, brother of LEONARD, was interviewed in connection with an investigation in this office. The interview was conducted in the Lawndale Restaurant, 3714 West Roosevelt Road, at which time he stated that the restaurant is just a friendly hang out for the neighborhood boys for their small stake card games.

Ex-Lieutenant WILLIAM DRURY and ex-Captain THOMAS CONNELLY, formerly of the Chicago Police Department, advised that as of April 15, 1949, LEONARD PATRICK, [REDACTED] and DAVE YARAS were operating what they termed a "Canadian poker game" at the Lawndale Restaurant two nights a week. They stated that it was alleged that [REDACTED] [REDACTED] had a major interest in the Lawndale Restaurant and that his sons [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were card dealers at this establishment.

b7C

A newspaper article in the "Chicago Daily Sun Times" dated March 22, 1950, reflected that the body of EMMETT KEARNS, a West Side gambling figure, was found sprawled across a barbed wire fence on March 22, 1950, at Hartsdale Station, Indiana. KEARNS, with alias EDDIE MURPHY, had a criminal record dating back twenty-nine years and was closely associated with LEONARD PATRICK and DAVE YARAS in gambling activities on the West Side.

The "Chicago Daily Tribune" dated March 22, 1950, stated that police sources claimed KEARNS was "the silent partner" of DAVE YARAS and LEONARD PATRICK who are in charge of syndicate gambling operations in three West Side wards.

On October 7, 1952, [REDACTED] special counsel for the Emergency Crime Committee of the City Council of Chicago, submitted a report based upon information acquired during a four-month period from March 13, 1952 to July 17, 1952, on crime conditions in the City of Chicago. This report stated that LEONARD PATRICK and DAVE YARAS are reportedly active in gambling in the 36th Police District.

b7C

CG 92-374

On August 8, 1955, Detectives [ ] and [ ] assigned to the Scotland Yard Detail, Chicago Police Department, were interviewed by SAs [ ] and [ ] regarding their knowledge of [ ]

b6
b7C

Detective [ ] advised that about nine months prior to the date of the interview, he had learned from a source, which he refused to divulge, that [ ] was acquainted with every burglar of note in the City of Chicago. He advised that [ ] had numerous connections and that the burglars contacted him for the purpose of disposing of stolen merchandise. [ ] stated that [ ] is closely associated with [ ] whose real name is [ ]

b6
b7C

[ ] stated that [ ] name came up in connection with approximately ten burglaries although he has practically no criminal record, and that [ ] is a right-hand man for LENNIE PATRICK, West Side gambling boss. He stated that [ ] and [ ] frequent the following spots: H&H Restaurant, 160 North La Salle Street, Eddie's Barber Shop on Lake Street, three doors west of La Salle Street.

b6
b7C

T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA [ ] on February 7, 1956, that LENNIE PATRICK, who he described as a well-known powerful Chicago syndicate hoodlum, had obtained control of all gambling in the 24th Ward. This ward lies primarily in the Fillmore Police District.

b6
b7C

T-2 stated that PATRICK has gained this control through political friends, possibly politician [ ] who has an insurance firm at 3828 West Roosevelt Road and resides at [ ] and also through police contacts. T-2 stated that PATRICK pays off politicians as well as the police for this gambling right.

CG 92-374

T-2 stated that recently an individual, known to him but who he did not care to identify, who had some bowling machines in various places in the 24th Ward, was ordered to meet PATRICK. This individual told T-2 that he entered the rear of the building located at 3226 West Roosevelt Road and went either to the second or third floor, probably the second, where he met PATRICK. PATRICK told him to remove his bowling machines from the 24th Ward immediately. PATRICK told this individual that he had all gambling rights in the 24th Ward and that he wanted to replace this individual's machines with machines of his own.

T-2 also stated that the room where this individual met PATRICK contained other hoodlums and was a gambling room. He stated this individual noted a considerable number of guns stacked on a table and believed that the individuals, who at that time were gambling in PATRICK's place, were probably individuals responsible for stickups in the Chicago area.

T-2 stated that a brother of PATRICK recently purchased a bath house located at St. Louis and Roosevelt Road and turned it into a hotel.

A review of this report has been made at the Bureau and it appears that this investigation has been conducted in accordance with Bureau letter to New York dated 11-27-57.

The following observations are made and suggested for additional investigation in this matter:

PERSONAL HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

Residence

From a review of the Chicago Police Department records, various residences dating back to 1944 were obtained regarding the subject. Consideration should be given to conducting neighborhood investigations in some or all of these areas to establish as fully as possible information relating to the subject's habits, activities, and associates, both past and present. As to the subject's most recent address, you should attempt to develop among the subject's current neighbors a source of information who could possibly report on his activities.

CRIMINAL RECORD

There is no indication in rerep that a request has been made for a review of the Identification Division files. If such a request has been made, the results thereof should be reported under this heading.

In addition, you should attempt to determine the disposition of those arrests, not already known, and examine court records relating to the specific arrest.

Letter to Chicago (92-374)
RE: LEONARD PATRICK

Page 8 of rerep reflects that it was reported to the Chicago Office in 1946 (exact date unknown) by an unknown source, that Dave Yaras and the subject were reportedly the "torpedoes" or the killers for the syndicate. Attempts through informants or other sources of information should be made to establish the validity of such information in relation to gangland slayings or other murders which rerep reflects the subject may have been involved in.

You are reminded that one of the objectives of this investigation is to develop a prosecutable offense within the jurisdiction of the Bureau or some other investigative agency. Utilization of informants would undoubtedly be your greatest aid in developing information of this nature.

It is noted that on 4-5-57 two individuals appeared at the Chicago Office and advised Bureau Agents that they had been approached by the subject and Dave Yaras and told that they would have to start making pay offs to Yaras and Patrick in the amount of $1,000 per week. The two individuals refused to furnish any identification regarding themselves, their attorney or their business, with the exception that they did mention that they were in the home-improvement business in Chicago. The individuals advised that Patrick and Yaras made no mention as to the reason for the pay offs; however, they advised that they were aware of the reputation of Patrick and Yaras and were fearful of them. The two men advised the Agents that after some negotiation with Patrick and Yaras, an agreement was made with them to make a payment of $1,250 per month commencing 4-6-57. The two individuals further advised that they were merely seeking advice from the FBI and stated that they discussed the alleged pay offs with other individuals in the home-improvement industry and discovered that some others were actually making pay offs.

Letter to Chicago (92-374)
RE: LEONARD PATRICK

Concerted efforts should be made to explore the possibility of a shakedown scheme, extortion or anti-racketeering violation with home-improvement companies in the Chicago area. In this regard, good judgment and common sense should dictate what areas and type of home-improvement companies might be considered good "prospects" by Yaras and Patrick for this type of activity. Investigation along these lines as indicated above should vigorously be pursued in order that a local or Federal violation might be established.

TRAVEL

Rerep reflects that travel of the subject is unknown at the present time. Obviously, the subject owns an automobile. You should obtain full particulars concerning the make, year, license number, etc. of his current automobile.

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION

No indication is given in your physical description of the subject as to whether it is a current description or was obtained some time ago. If feasible to do so, you should arrange to observe Patrick in order that his physical description can be verified. In addition, you should attempt to obtain a photograph of Patrick and forward same to the New York Office and the Bureau.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

You are reminded that it is your personal responsibility to insure that this investigation continues to receive vigorous investigative attention. It is suggested that you consider the use of surveillances and confidential techniques to obtain information of value. As you are aware, informants are necessary to a complete and exhaustive investigation.

In addition, you should insure that original sources of information are reported. The Bureau does not desire that mere rumor or gossip be included in your reports unless such information can be subsequently established through original sources.

ISEMAN entitled "SURVEY CONCERNING PROMINENT UNDERWORLD FIGURES BEING MADE BY U. S. ATTORNEYS; CRIME SURVEY." This letter is set forth in part. It is also to be noted that the only reference to PATRICK's ever having been in Detroit was a statement by an informant to the effect that he was connected with the Purple Gang in Detroit [redacted] was reportedly [redacted] which ceased to exist in 1936. [redacted] is now approximately [redacted] years of age so it appears that PATRICK would have been rather young to have been active in the Purple Gang, whose activities were largely in connection with the manufacturing and selling of moonshine whiskey beginning in the late 1920s. b6 b7C b7D

T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA JOHN B. HARRINGTON on January 18, 1956, that he does not know PATRICK's present residence, but that he can obtain same information. He advised further that PATRICK owns a card room at either 841 or 851 Eastwood, which is located a couple of doors away from Sheridan Road and has an unmarked green door. This card room is the only pan-gini game in Chicago. According to T-3, PATRICK has other card games on the North Side which T-3 will obtain further information about.

T-3 stated the rooms operate with each player paying from .50¢ to $1.50 an hour depending on the type of game being played. The games run 24 hours a day on most days and this particular room is operated by [redacted] who resides at [redacted] and who also operates a small handbook from his apartment. T-3 stated the money from the Eastwood card game is taken in the evening to [redacted] who waits for the envelope at the Tradewinds Restaurant. b6 b7C

T-3 also advised that PATRICK has a few juke boxes in operation and that there is no clear cut boundary for juke box installations.

T-3 stated PATRICK has a brother whom he believes is named DAVE, although he is not sure, who occasionally plays in games, but PATRICK himself does not play. T-3 stated that LEONARD PATRICK is an affable and polite individual, not addicted to strong tactics, but that he is "nobody to fool with".

CG 92-374

On January 23, 1958, a check was made by SAs [ ] and [ ] at 941 and 951 Eastwood and it was ascertained that there were apartment houses at these addresses. An additional check of the 900 block of Eastwood revealed the above described green door is next door to 944-46 Eastwood.

b6
b7C

The City Directory of Chicago reflects there is no address listed higher than 944 on Eastwood Avenue.

This room is located at the rear of Milson Liquors, 4635 North Sheridan Road, but the entrance into this room is on Eastwood Avenue.

SAs [ ] and [ ] conducted a spot surveillance in this vicinity on January 23, 1958, and observed numerous men entering and leaving this gambling room.

b6

On February 19, 1958, [ ] owner of Milson Liquors, 4635 North Sheridan Road, was interviewed by SAs [ ] and [ ] in connection with a Bureau fugitive presently sought by this Office. At this time [ ] advised that there is a gambling room in the rear of this building which has an entrance on Eastwood Avenue. It is a big "pan" and poker game mainly played by the "Jewish boys". He stated that he saw several people driving big Cadillacs go into this gambling room, but he did not know who they were. He stated this room does not have a liquor bar, but does have a little snack or sandwich bar. He stated that to the best of his knowledge, this game is "wide-open".

On January 27, 1958, T-4, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA [ ] that he has known PATRICK for the past five years. He described PATRICK as a Chicago hoodlum from the West Side, but said he has had no dealings with him. T-4 said he believes PATRICK has a front of some sort and is known to have strong police protection. T-4 was unable to furnish any additional information concerning this police protection. T-4 said he last saw PATRICK at the bar in Little Jack's on West Madison Street prior to the Christmas holidays.

T-4 stated at the present time he does not know who PATRICK associates with regarding the Chicago hoodlum element, however, he said [ ] a close friend of T-4, is in close contact with PATRICK. T-4 said [ ] of the Chicago Fireman's Association. T-4 stated he was certain he could obtain additional information regarding PATRICK's associates and hangouts.

T-5, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA BRADNER C. RIGGS on December 19, 1957, that he does not know LEONARD PATRICK personally, but understands he is a Precinct Captain or Ward Chairman on the West Side and has been associated with gambling activity on the West Side. T-5 further stated PATRICK is engaged in short term usury known as "6 for 5".

T-6, another government agency, made available their records on subject to Investigative Clerk FRANCIS G. KAHL on February 16, 1958. This record contained a report dated October 6, 1955, reflecting that LEONARD PATRICK (Lenny), with alias Joe Cohen, was born October 6, 1913, Chicago, Illinois. The only information contained in this record that has not been previously reported is a check of the State Selective Service Board, Chicago, Illinois. This record from the Selective Service Board, under Order #2068, gave subject's address as 4144 West 12th Street, Chicago, and listed his uncle JACK MACKENBERG, 6000 Western Avenue, as the person who would always know his whereabouts. Later in 1942, subject's questionnaire listed his address as 3307 Douglas Boulevard, previously reported, and his employment as a dice dealer in the R & K Club, 3613 West 12th Street, and his business as gambling. This record reflects subject has a brother JACK who is also a local gambler, but less prominent than the subject.

From a review of rerep at the Bureau, it appears that this investigation regarding captioned individual is being actively conducted in accordance with previously issued Bureau instructions.

b6
b7c

Your attention, however, is directed to referenced Bulet wherein information was set forth from the report of SA [redacted] at Chicago, dated 1/9/58, concerning two individuals who appeared at the Chicago Office on 4/5/57, regarding alleged payoffs they were to make to Patrick and Dave Yaras, beginning on 4/6/57. In reviewing rerep there is no indication that any inquiry was made into this matter.
As previously suggested by the Bureau in reBulet, you should explore the possibility of a shakedown scheme, extortion or anti-racketeering violations with home-improvement companies in the Chicago area. Good judgment and common sense should dictate what areas and type of home-improvement companies might be considered "good prospects" by Patrick and Yaras for this type of activity.

You are again reminded that one of the objectives of these type investigations is to develop a prosecutable offense within the jurisdiction of the Bureau or some other investigative agency in order that a Federal or local violation might be established.

Records Indiana State Reformatory

The Indianapolis Division advised that the records of the Indiana State Reformatory at Pendleton, Indiana, as reviewed by SA THOMAS A. EVERSON on February 14, 1958 reflected the following information:

[redacted] Reformatory Psychologist, commented during 1933 that subject was a high-grade moron with a mental age of 11 years and 7 months and that his I.Q. was 72.3, that his practical judgement was low, retentive and visual memory weak, association retarded, and visual imagery fair, and that his reasoning and perception were fair.

CG 92-374

This file reflected that the subject was born October 6, 1913 at Chicago, Illinois. His parents were natives of England with a common school education, were members of the Jewish Synagogue, and that his father was a Court Bailiff, Cook County, Illinois. The subject's mother died of influenza in 1919 and subject's father remarried shortly thereafter. The subject was reared by his parents until age 6 and in a Jewish orphanage until age 10 when he returned to his father and step-mother. He completed a seventh grade education in the Chicago public schools and worked as a delivery man at fifteen dollars a week and was working part-time when arrested for the bank robbery.

On July 27, 1933, [redacted] Shier Butter and Egg Company, 3048 Roosevelt Road, said that he had been acquainted with subject and family for some five years and was complimentary.

On August 15, 1933, a [redacted] inquired of the Reformatory as to whether a girl, approximately eighteen years of age, 5'2", gray eyes, and brunette hair, had visited at the Indiana State Reformatory; and the Reformatory wrote her that such a girl had attempted to visit subject, but had been turned away.

He states that subject had formerly operated in the Filmore, 25th District, but that neighborhood turned colored so PATRICK has moved to the north side.

On February 25, 1958, T-7, who has furnished reliable information in the past, in answer to the question as to the existence and identity of a syndicate was most emphatic that a syndicate exists and total members might number as high as 25. T-7 doubted that there was anyone man in charge. He explained that certain men in various levels of power exist in certain areas of Chicago. For example LENNY PATRICK and DAVE YARAS of Jewish parentage control the Roosevelt Avenue area and their headquarters is at Roosevelt and Independence Boulevard. He stated that PATRICK is outwardly a calm individual, but ruthless when aroused to anger. PATRICK frequents the Kedzie Avenue Baths near Kedzie and Madison and as for YARAS, YARAS reportedly has a major interest in a Miami Hotel, name not known.

On March 18, 1958, T-6, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the gambling joint at 948 West Eastwood [redacted] (Phonetic, previously reported as [redacted]) and is controlled by the "outfit". T-6 added that the ownership and license of this place is in the name of [redacted] or [redacted] who worked there at one time, but is no longer there now. [redacted] This book was operated [redacted] at [redacted] and his payments were made to LENNY PATRICK at the New Lawndale Restaurant in that neighborhood. T-4 states that at that time PATRICK was in control of the New Lawndale Restaurant and there was a full scale Hard card book being operated there. According to T-4 PATRICK had the area from Kedzie to Cicero and from Madison south to approximately 18th Street. No one could open a book or take on any bets unless he had the OK of PATRICK. At that time PATRICK's lieutenants were YARAS and [redacted]

PATRICK made an attempt to move into the area at Broadway, Diversey and Belmont, but according to T-4 was run by ROCCO FISCHETTI. Three of PATRICK's "muscles" NARTI POLSKI, "LITTLE SNEEZE" FRIEDMAN and one other were killed in the New Lawndale Restaurant ostensibly for robbing books but the truth of the matter according to T-4 was that these men were killed because of their association with PATRICK. T-4 states that he believes that this dispute between PATRICK and FISCHETTI was finally arbitrated by TONY ACCARDO. T-4 had no facts to substantiate this allegation.

Bombings and Arson

[redacted] National Board of Fire Underwriters, 222 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, was contacted on February 26 and March 20, 1958. [redacted] went on to say that [redacted] in 1955 opened a new place of business on [redacted] and on Valentine's Day this place was blown up with [redacted] with an acetylene tank which contained explosives. b6 b7C

[redacted] also advised that [redacted] in 1957 opened a new place of business which occupies the [redacted] block on [redacted] the exact name of which he does not recall. This store is also a General Merchandise Store and in a recent conversation with [redacted] [redacted] stated that he was no longer concerned about getting bombed at this new place of business. During this time [redacted] stated he had access to the records of this new business made available by an individual whose name he would not divulge and that these records reflect that several relatives of LEONARD PATRICK are present stock holders in this business. [redacted] surmised that this is apparently the reason for [redacted] having made the statement about his unconcern for getting bombed. [redacted] states that he does not recall the exact names of PATRICK's relatives who are listed as stock holders and does not believe that these records would be made available to him again. b6 b7C

[redacted] is of the opinion that the property of [redacted] that had been destroyed was probably needed by the criminal element as a gambling front and that [redacted] would not cooperate with them, consequently they were bombed and set afire.

Concerning the unknown individuals who appeared at the Chicago Office during April, 1957 complaining of a shakedown by PATRICK, there is no data at this time which might indicate the identities of these individuals or companies in the home improvement industry. It is believed that information concerning this allegation can best be obtained through continued informant coverage, since these companies are numerous and embrace all phases of home construction. There is no indication that these individuals would admit again to these payoffs if contacted by chance unless more specific information can be obtained through informants. Once this information is established it will be promptly and thoroughly investigated.

CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

Gambling

Bookmaking

On February 26, 1958, T-1 advised that [redacted] This book was operated [redacted] at [redacted] and payments were made to LENNY PATRICK at the New Lawndale Restaurant, 3714 West Roosevelt Road. T-1 states that at that time PATRICK was in control of the New Lawndale Restaurant and there was a full scale Hard card book being operated there. PATRICK had the area from Kedzie to Cicero and from Madison south to approximately 18th Street. No one could open a book or take on any bets unless he had the okay of PATRICK. At that time PATRICK's lieutenants were DAVE YARAS and [redacted]

b6
b7C

Records of the Chicago Crime Commission in a memorandum dated August 22, 1947, reported that LEONARD PATRICK is the manager of a handbook at 1625 South Kedzie Avenue. These records also reflected a memorandum of November 10, 1947, reporting that PATRICK was formerly employed in a handbook operated at 3613 West Roosevelt Road and was the owner of a tavern, 3166 Ogden Avenue. A handbook was alleged to be operating in the back of this tavern. For years poker games were operated at 3164 Ogden Avenue with which PATRICK was said to be associated. The Chicago Crime Commission records also reflected a "Tribune" article of May 6, 1952, concerning the murder of DAVID ZATZ who was found shot to death in the trunk of his car on May 5, 1952. It is reported that ZATZ had operated a handbook at the cigar counter of the State of Illinois building and had been run out of this building as having been uncovered as a handbook operator and had recently started booking in the 38th District. The article recites that ZATZ was known as a syndicate front for DAVID YARAS and LEONARD PATRICK, the gang's representatives under the rule of [redacted]

b6
b7C

CG 92-374

In a Chicago Crime Commission memorandum of May 20, 1955, it is reported that the handbook operated at the Black Angus Restaurant, 7127 North Western Avenue, has as its manager EUGENE LUFFMAN who is the "front" for LEONARD PATRICK.

These records also reflect a "Sun Times" article of October 12, 1955, reflecting that LEONARD and JACK PATRICK refused to testify on constitutional grounds before the grand jury. Information indicated that they were to be questioned concerning the bombing in May, 1955, of the Black Angus Restaurant, 7127 North Western Avenue.

The Chicago "Tribune" reported on May 16, 1958, that the bombing of the Black Angus Restaurant is an example of another unsolved bombing outrage. [redacted] Assistant State's Attorney, commented that he had a very clear recollection of the Black Angus case and that LEONARD PATRICK, his brother JACK and an associate, EUGENE LUFFMAN, who were reported to have gambling connections on the West side, all refused to testify on constitutional grounds. [redacted] added that the PATRICK brothers were trying to take over the North side and that they knew about the Black Angus bombing. He states that since the victims were not talking they were not able to make a case.

b7C

During November, 1955, T-2 advised that EUGENE LUFFMAN, who weighs about 350 pounds, is a bookmaker for LENNY PATRICK and DAVE YARAS and is doing a big job.

b6
b7C

T-2 also advised that another book place was located at Sol Sleisenger's (ph) Furniture Store on Roosevelt Road near Homan Avenue. This book belongs to another individual but LENNY PATRICK collects for this operation and [redacted] is only renting them this horse room because he has no other choice.

On May 23, 1958, a physical check was made of Schlesinger's Furniture Company at West Roosevelt and Homan Avenue. It is noted that this furniture store is closed and presently boarded up. A posted notice at this address reflects that this company has moved to 5351 West Devon, telephone number SP 4-5744.

CG 92-374

Policy

The Chicago Crime Commission records in a memorandum of October 2, 1950, reports that anonymous information was received that PATRICK, YARAS and [ ] were in control of lottery jars flooding the 35th Police District.

b6
b7C

These records also reflect a "Tribune" clip of January 19, 1955, concerning the policy gambling racket, which reports that on the West side the syndicate has five representatives in SAM GIANCANA, SAM BATTAGLIA, [ ] and two underlings LEONARD PATRICK and [ ]

On March 17, 1958, T-3 advised that LEONARD PARTICK, with alias PETE LEONARDI, is a known hoodlum affiliated with ALBERT FRABOTTA, with alias "Obbie". According to T-3, upon the syndicates entering the policy racket, PATRICK participated in the kidnapping of the JONES brothers, Negro king pins of the policy racket in the 1940's.

Cards

In a Chicago Crime Commission report of April 26, 1946, LEONARD PATRICK is variously reported as manager of a gambling place at 3613 West Roosevelt Road and as having only a twenty-five per cent interest in the blackjack game in this place.

In a Crime Commission memorandum dated June 22, 1956, it is reported that a gambling joint, operating at 7018 North Western Avenue in the rear of a restaurant, is a LEONARD PATRICK enterprise and PATRICK supposedly owns the restaurant. These records also reflect a memorandum dated July 27, 1956, which reports that further investigation indicates that there is a commercial poker game at 7018 North Western Avenue. A police report was received on a complaint sheet on August 14, 1956, concerning the gambling at 7018 North Western Avenue and it was conclusively shown that the captain of the district whitewashed the entire complaint.

On February 26, 1958, T-1 advised that he believes that PATRICK still has gambling going on at the New Lawndale Restaurant. At one time two years ago or maybe more recently there was a "pan" game being dealt at the New Lawndale Restaurant in which great sums of money would be won and lost. These card games would go on for days duration with new players and money entering the game as old players dropped out.

During November, 1955, T-2 advised that the New Lawndale Restaurant in Chicago is a notorious place where "envelopes" with payoffs are kept in a drawer under the cash register table or stand. Among the individuals receiving payoffs from this location are [redacted] with alias [redacted] and a "6 for 5" operator; and LENNY PATRICK, with alias "Blinkey".

b7C

On September 10, 1948, LEONARD PATRICK, during an interview, advised that he and his brother JACK operate the New Lawndale Restaurant at 3714 West Roosevelt Road. He stated that he and his brother have had a part interest in this restaurant for over two years and they recently bought out [redacted] who had previously had the remaining interest and until recently acted as [redacted]. At this time PATRICK admitted that there is a poker game operating in this restaurant and that this restaurant was only business interest at that time. On August 6, 1958, T-1 advised SA [ ] that about six or seven years ago one [ ] was working in Chicago as a "shylock" and was associated with LENNY PATRICK, JACK PATRICK and DAVEY YARAS. This was an illegitimate operation and to establish a so-called legitimate source of income, [ ] the Reliable Products novelty business. LENNY PATRICK, JACK PATRICK and DAVEY YARAS soon showed an interest in the place which handled novelties, jewelry, toys and similar general merchandise. This was more of a front for his more lucrative business of "shylocking". LENNY and JACK PATRICK would actually put up some of the money that was loaned on a six-for-five basis but only on the okay from [ ] was never known to use actual violence in making collections but on occasions he had to resort to threats and similar non-violent means to scare some of his accounts to "pay-up".

The Reliable Products business had a bank account at the Merchants National Bank, Kedzie and Madison, Chicago, several years ago but T-1 had no information concerning its present financial condition.

About three years ago, LENNY PATRICK and DAVEY YARAS began "easing" [ ] out of the business and allegedly [ ] saw the "handwriting on the wall" and fearing for his life, he decided to leave Chicago for good. Reliable Products went into bankruptcy about six months after [ ] left Chicago.

Informant stated that LENNY PATRICK, along with his brother and DAVEY YARAS, had other interests in Chicago, all of which would be well known to one HARRIS TURNER, who did all of his accounting work. HARRIS TURNER could be considered a "weak link" in the organization and might be willing to talk if offered the proper inducement and protection.

Informant stated that he is quite sure LENNY and JACK PATRICK had a safe deposit box at the bank on Roosevelt and Kedzie, possibly the Liberty Bank, and they kept large sums of money in this box which they used for loans and gambling purposes.

LENNY PATRICK had a $30,000 insurance policy with an unknown insurance company about six years ago. Informant does not know whether he still has this policy in force.

PATRICK also had other interests in Chicago and vicinity, including a used car business and a part interest in a colored hotel. He had an interest in a place across the street from the Reliable Products business, which place was believed owned by a [REDACTED]. This place was located between Division Sales, a wholesale house, and a chain good store. It was used as a hangout and a "hide'out" by LENNY PATRICK and other members of the mob.

Another member of the mob was one [REDACTED] who was running a [REDACTED]

About three years ago, after [REDACTED] left Chicago, one [REDACTED] (possibly [REDACTED]) took over the shylocking business that [REDACTED] once handled. He and another man named [REDACTED] (LNU), [REDACTED] have allegedly been doing a $100,000.00 a year business. In the opinion of the informant, [REDACTED] are working along with LENNY PATRICK, JACK PATRICK and DAVEY YARAS in this shylocking business just as [REDACTED] used to operate.

Informant stated that in regard to the alleged horse room at [REDACTED] this place was in operation about five or six years ago, but the people operating it were not known to him. He believes that the operators were giving LENNY PATRICK pay-off money for protection from the police and other hoodlums.

To the knowledge of the informant, LENNY PATRICK was never involved in any dope or narcotics peddling and his interests were mostly gambling and related activities.
